. Presidents Report

Welcome to the January 30th meeting with Council Member Robert Holden's office, Council Member Julie Won, Council Member Juan Ardilla and this wonderful community and the UFT, John Harrington.

The months of December and January were very eventful with work behind closed doors and will impact our schools, our budget, Kindergarten applications and Pre-K applications.

I have spoken to several groups including, Language Access, Nutrition and Office of Pupil Transportation. These topics will be included at the upcoming monthly meetings. The traveling to the districts or outside the district for our schools is a priority to understand. Interpretations are important and impact some of the challenges ahead at our February meeting.

I do want to apologize for rescheduling the meeting on January 23rd because some members felt ill, and we were unable to attend. It is a great need that is our top priority for our children's testing, state testing, children who come from all walks of life. The Sunnyside community who has been replaced from a fire. What are the resources for our children to think for our community in a practical way for the families, teachers, and we are working together and supporting them?

Social Emotional Learning

The DOE announced the Comfort Dog Pilot Program in the NYCPS in partnership with the North Shore Animal League and staff members from the DOE's office of Counseling and Support programs. Comfort Dogs offer goal-specific activities with students through the use of Animal Assisted Interventions. These dogs which must undergo extensive training prior to participating in interventions provide our students with a safe and welcoming environment and act as a motivational tool, offering emotional stability and support.

At seven schools, the use of rescued comfort/therapy dogs are in classrooms. At Public School 81, the comfort dog Cypress and Public School 211 has Dusty. There are two more comfort dogs, one at Public School 229, Cannoli and Public School 14 has Fleet.

Thank you to Tiffany Harris for a wonderful event for the necessary warm clothing, hats, gloves, scarves given to the children at Mosaic Pre-K. .

Matt Crescio mentioned the Comfort dog program - Good Puppy Foundation.. This program provides and teaches a person and their dog how to be a team to provide animal assisted intervention for education and counseling purposes. Six hours of required training consisting of two- hour classes held once a week over a three- week period during school hours. All dogs are certified.

The fee is $20.00 for pre-class in-person evaluation. $475 good dog certification course and practice. $125 annual re-evaluation and re-certification with correctives, as needed.

This DOE preparation and certification class does not guarantee acceptance into the program. School environment and other factors must be considered. There is documentation of what the dog is doing every day.

Cypress is grandfathered in the old program. The old program worked. The DOE is not managing since the dog needs a break. I have seen seven dogs and this office needs to be investigated. I do not want retaliation to come back to my site.

Thank you to Superintendent Caccavale for getting Cannoli who works one day a week until 1:30 pm at Public School 229.
